In this today the Christ enters the synagogue of my convictions to proclaim a happy message to the poverty of my thought, to the feelings prisoners of that desire broken on the ruins of a daily gray dragged from hour to hour, to my gaze overshadowed by my horizon too close. A year of grace, of return, of blessing. Lord, may my today be yours, so that none of your words may fall in vain into my life, but all may be realized like grains of wheat in the cold furrow of the past, capable of sprouting in the first winds of spring.

Justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and in the Spirit of our God," "sanctified . . . [and] called to be saints," Christians have become the temple of the Holy Spirit. This "Spirit of the Son" teaches them to pray to the Father and, having become their life, prompts them to act so as to bear "the fruit of the Spirit" by charity in action. Healing the wounds of sin, the Holy Spirit renews us interiorly through a spiritual transformation. He enlightens and strengthens us to live as "children of light" through "all that is good and right and true."

En este hoy Cristo entra en la sinagoga de mis convicciones para proclamar un nuevo mensaje a la pobreza de mi pensamiento, a los sentimientos prisioneros de aquel deseo quebrado en las ruinas de un cotidiano gris arrastrado hora por hora, a mi mirada ofuscada por mi horizonte miope. Un año de gracia, de regreso, de bendición. Señor, que mi hoy sea el tuyo, para que ninguna palabra tuya pueda caer en vano en mi vida, sino que todas puedan realizarse como granos de trigo en el surco helado del pasado, capaces de germinar con los primeros vientos de la primavera
